

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Looking Ahead
Jordi Piqué and David J. Viera.....	11

PART ONE: SOME THEORETICAL ASSUMPTIONS

1. A Word in Season: Concepts, Contexts, and Communication of Meaning. Wilga Rivers.....	17
2. Back to Basics. Denis Clare	29
3. The Boundaries of the Concepts of Genre, Register and Style in Academic Discourse. Rosa Giménez Moreno.....	37
4. Marked Theme as a Heuristic for Analysing Text-Type, Text and Genre. Florence Davies.....	45
5. Theory and Practice in LSP Course Design. Alan Waters.....	81
6. ESP in Medical Science: A Multidimensional Approach to Syllabus Design. Liv Ingrid Ostbye	93
7. Layers of Specificity in Business English Discourse. Santiago Posteguillo and Juan Carlos Palmer.....	107
8. A Process and Product Oriented Approach to Writing Medical Essays. Nico- lás Estévez and Jordi Piqué	119

PART TWO:
ESP IN PRACTICE

9. Critical Reading for ESP, or How Napoleon Became a General. Mike Scott.	139
10. The Linguistic Organization of Texts: Finding Relations in Discourse. Elvira M ^a Montañés and Elena Bosch	151
11. Strategic Conversational Behaviour in the Discourse of Negotiation. Rosana Dolón.....	169
12. Creative Meaning-Making. Russell Napoli.....	187
13. Applying the Case Study Approach to Students of Business English. Pilar Bonet	199
14. Terminological Loans and the Teaching/Learning of Technical Vocabulary: The Use of Economic Anglicisms in the Business Classroom. Rafael Alejo and Margaret McGinity	211
15. Learning Strategies and Their Application to the Acquisition of Vocabulary by Learners of English for Specific Purposes. Tina Suau Jiménez	229
16. Translation in the Teaching of Scientific English: Translation or Text Typology. Eusebio V. Llácer Llorca	243
Index	259
Notes on Contributors	265